

Web 2.0 for Higher Education Professionals

Creating a Roadmap for Education 2.0

Gain the insight you need in this one-day intensive workshop, led by experts in user experience and organizational effectiveness.

Practical information you can use now.

Essential for today's marketing and communications leaders.

Workshop Leaders
Anne Pauker Kreitzberg
Charles B. Kreitzberg, Ph.D.

Anne Pauker Kreitzberg and Dr. Charles Kreitzberg are a husband and wife team that blends expertise in user experience engineering with organizational effectiveness.

Their comprehensive Framework for Web 2.0 Strategy provides marketing and communications professionals with practical insights to make sound business decisions about how to use these tools effectively to attract prospects and create deep relationships with customers.

Anne and Charlie are dynamic, smart and entertaining speakers who are passionate about bringing technology, people and business together.

As a professional in higher education, the Administration looks to you for ways to creatively use social media tools like blogs, multi media, discussion forums and social networks to promote your institution and attract high-quality students. This workshop will give you the information you need to understand how these tools can bring real business value to your organization, manage the risks, and give you a roadmap for moving forward.

After attending this workshop, you will:

- Connect Web 2.0 initiatives with measurable goals
- Know more about executive blogs and how colleges and universities are leveraging sites like Facebook, YouTube and Second Life.
- Use Web 2.0 to create deep and lasting relationships externally, with students, and internally, to engage staff and faculty.
- Use Web 2.0 to promote your brand with prospects, prospective employees and other audiences.
- Be prepared to manage risks like hostile sites

Who should attend:

Higher education executives, decision makers and professionals working in marketing, communications, public relations, admissions or other related disciplines

blogs collaboration communication innovation
social media
virtual reality virtual teams
wikis

What You Will Learn

Mastering Web 2.0

- A deep dive into Web 2.0; why it's changing the game for communicators and marketers
- One Web— Many Faces
- Why Web 2.0 is a difficult "fit" for organizations

Exploring Tools

- Hands-on exploration of key tools and how they're used
- A user experience guide to blogs, wikis, social media, forums, networks, virtual reality
- How to recognize and create great designs that support your institutional goals

Building Web Communities

- Six Degrees of Social Computing: Creating engaging experiences with students, faculty and staff
- Creating public-facing and internal web communities
- Administration and faculty blogs
- Using sites like Facebook, YouTube, and Second Life

Creating A Roadmap

- A practical framework for moving your web strategy forward
- Ten Key Risk Areas
- Protecting your institution's reputation
- Applying user experience engineering to create loyalty

This customized full day workshop is also available in multiple-day programs.

Cognetics Corporation ■ PO Box 386 ■ Princeton Junction, New Jersey 08550
www.cognetics.com ■ 609.799.5005 x226 ■ anne@cognetics.com